Customization options are provided through a configuration tool accessed by pressing Shift + 6. The configuration tool allows you to configure such parameters as: - cabin load of passengers - unit measurement - fuel consumption - engine start up conditions - sound - engine sound level - alarm sounds - menu sound level - aircraft ID - FMS start up conditions - FMS loop flight path - A/C bleed air power - FADEC parameter - customisation of graphics - customisation of flight model - customisation of pax units - customisation of flight and cockpit textures - customisation of the initial flight It also includes a preflight setup tool. In addition, there is a calligrapher to customize the cabin crew members. There are many other customisations available; you can try them to find the perfect match for you. The configurations are saved in a.cfg file and can be accessed via the startup.cfg directory. The Embraer ERJ 145LR project was inspired by the real plane, being based on Airbus A320 cockpit, with the aim to give it the same stunning appearance and great detail as the real thing. The FADEC system integrated into the model allows you to simulate the engine with an even more detailed engine model. With the FADECs enabled, you can test all parameters that relate to the engines, such as the parameters for ATC's notifications, engines' performance, and more. - Key Features: - Accurate model of the Embraer ERJ 145LR - Virtual cockpit - Panoramic cabin - Complete audible and visual system (paints, sounds, exhausts) - Fully accurate autopilot - Internal weapons (warning horn, bombs, etc.) - And more... King's Bounty: Armored Princess Crack + (Latest)

You're a shooter of bear and you're unarmed. Armed with nothing more than your smarts and an attitude, you take out human targets one by one. You are in a bear world with your gun concealed. Each human you face is ready to attack, and you are programmed to continue shooting until all humans are dead. Install Notes: The Bear With Me is a standalone game, so you can play it without the other games from the Commissary.

Q: dynamic stored procedure execution I am using Microsoft visual Studio 2010. I have a stored procedure [dbo].[sp_proc_name] I created a simple SP(table_name, column1, column2, column3), but I want to execute this SP dynamically. How can I do it, so the proc is called with specific arguments. Thank you

A: If you want to call a sp with specific parameters, just add them to the sql statement. For example DECLARE @myparam VARCHAR(10) SET @myparam = '#parameter#' EXEC ('SELECT'+ @myparam +'FROM MyTable')

Q: How to load pdf from a stream using iText? I have an application which processes some document and I want to convert it to a PDF file. So basically my input is a data stream. I am using PdfReader to read it. Now the problem is that it returns object reference, not the real pdf content. I want to load a pdf file from a stream. Also I want to use iText library. How can I achieve it? Please provide solution using iText.

A: I'm not sure what language you're using, but I'm going to attempt an answer for C# since you're using iText. You can't use a data stream as input to PdfReader. That's a limitation of the spec. You have to decompress the pdf file, then PdfReader the file. The use of PdfReader is really just to get things like headers, cross references, etc. so that you can build an output file. Note that if you are reading the file as a stream and not a file, you might actually need to do some buffering. For a quick example of how to decompress a stream, see: How to decompress gzip
