Are you what you seem to be? My name is Craig Williams. I was the number one cop in the city, until I was suspended. A shooting incident with my partner early in my career and the tragic death of my wife and child at the end of my career, put me in a dark place. I have no idea why I have to live in that apartment. After a long day, I am on my way back to the office when I hear gunshots in the distance. In the hope of rebuilding my life, I open a PI agency. Unfortunately, there are no cases. As I have no job, I resort to parking my car at the gas station. That's how I meet Violet. She is a beautiful damsel, who is in need of help, and seeks for the person who stole her jewelry. That would be the beginning of a detective case I would like to solve. NeonCode is a retro-
